

The Problem Of Pollution In Illinois Detailed

A century and half ago, the pioneers in Illinois carved out homesteads in the vast woodlands of the state. They paddled canoes along the clear waterways which surround and crisscross the land. They breathed the clear air that blew through the trees and across the rambling prairie state.

Today, Illinois residents still rely heavily on the vast waterways for their health, economic, industrial, agricultural and recreational needs. But, things have changed drastically over the past 150 years. At first glance, all seems well with the air, land and water in Illinois. But, there are growing hints of trouble. A sign on a riverbank cautions that swimming is not allowed because the water is polluted. During the summer months, many communities pass ordinances prohibiting lawn sprinkling. Foul odors rise from streams, driving away picnickers and fishermen. Farmland is left untillied because of deep erosive gullies. Dead fish and wildlife surround streams and ponds because of deadly chemicals and waste products in the water.

In some places, there are mornings when every man, woman and child wakes up coughing—because of the polluted air, filled with chemicals and dust, that causes respiratory ailments.

The problems of pure air and water resources vary from community to community throughout the state. A town with plenty of water may have a severe air pollution problem. Or a town whose deep wells threaten to run dry from overpumping may have plenty of water in a nearby river that can't be used because of pollution.

As the population increases and urban areas and industries expand, these problems can be expected to intensify. Already a densely populated urban state, Illinois can expect some 13 million residents needing water in 1980; 18 million by the year 2020.

Authorities already point out that the population expansion and spread of urbanization have created serious shortages in water resources and that planning must be undertaken at once if residents will have enough water for their basic needs 50 years from now.

Not only is the very air to breathe and water to drink resources facing severe shortages in the future, but the economic status of the entire state is endangered. Industrial, agricultural and recreational needs are near the crisis point due to the lack of sufficient resources and the ever-increasing pollution problem.

Economically, Illinois is still growing at a fast pace. Last year over a thousand new businesses opened in the state. Companies already operating are in the process of expansion. In manufacturing, the state ranks third in the nation, with a total industrial output expected to reach 23 billion dollars in 1980. But, industry must have water to meet its needs, and it must also find ways to correct the air and water pollution it causes in turn.

The Illinois farmer leads the nation in total production of field crops. But, more and more land is becoming unusable due to erosion and unbalanced water supplies. The only way the Illinois farmer can maintain and advance their position as agricultural leaders is through better and continued conservation of water resources.

In recent years, Illinois has become the vanguard in international trade. World conditions have opened up new opportunities for commerce and Illinois leads all other states in the total value of exports. In 1966, the total exports amounted to two billion dollars in industrial and processed goods, and almost 670 million dollars in agricultural products. It is expected that these figures will at least double in the next ten years.

But the strategic position now held by the state demands that the water resources are sufficient for the production of these goods and the transportation of the raw and finished products.

The need for public land and water far exceeds the present supply in Illinois. The state has the smallest amount of public recreation land per capita of any state. Illinois has 5.6 percent of the nation's population, but its residents must share only 0.5 percent of the country's recreation land. By 1980 there will be 13 million people demanding boating, camping, swimming and fishing water within easy driving range of their homes.

Economically, the recreational deficiencies also cost the state a lot of money each year. More than half of Illinois' residents vacation out of state, where they spend half a billion dollars a year.

And, due to the shortage of recreational areas, out-of-staters don't want to tour Illinois.

Even where there are present recreational areas, the problems of pollution have encroached upon the facilities available. Hundreds of trees throughout the state are shriveled and damaged by poisons in the air. In streams, ponds and lakes fish are floating belly up because of deadly chemicals and oxygen-consuming waste products in the water.

During the past few months, numerous conservation and water resources officials have pointed out that the multi-faceted problems cannot be solved with one simple answer.

Audit Bid Okayed By ACHS Board

The Antioch High School Board met Wednesday evening and they agreed to again employ Rose & Christianson, a CPA firm in Waukegan to audit the books for the high school for the 1967-68 fiscal year which ends June 30.

Having the Baccalaureate and Commencement exercises on a Saturday and Sunday this year was an experiment, but it was so well accepted having it on these days by both graduates and their parents that it was decided that the Baccalaureate exercises for 1969 would take place on Saturday evening, May 31 and that the commencement exercises would be on Sunday afternoon, June 1, at 4 p.m.

Thirty-five students have registered for participation in the area's vocational center federally supported program in the various trades for 1968-69, and the board again approved participation in this program. They also approved bus transportation for these students.

Mrs. Betty Scott, Spanish instructor, will be in Mexico studying this summer, and enroute home, the board approved her attending the convention sponsored by the American Association of Spanish teachers at San Antonio, Texas, on August 28, 29 and 30.

The board accepted a bid from Schneider Trucking to deliver, gravel and grade a portion of the parking lot north of the building. (Continued on page three)

Three Antioch Area Beauties Getting Ready For Competition

Two more beauties have entered the Miss Lake Region Beauty Pageant scheduled in Antioch Aug. 10. The contest is sponsored by the Lake Region Jaycees.

And a third, already the winner of the pageant last year, is getting ances last year at Expo '67 in Montreal.

Sharon is 5'5" tall, weighs 115 lbs. and has 34-24-34 measurements. She has an olive complexion, with brown eyes and brown hair.

She would like to further her education at Lorretto Heights College in Colorado to study for a B.A. degree in either Language or Fine Arts.

Miss Joan Tiffany Lang, our Miss Lake Region, is a very busy girl these days. In just three weeks she will be competing for the coveted crown of Miss Illinois. Last August, Joan, or "Tiffany" as she prefers to be called, was chosen "Queen of the Lake Region" from a field of twenty-two contestants in the annual Lake Region Jaycee Pageant.

Miss Illinois Pageant held in Aurora this year will begin July 17th. Three nights of competition are held before the final Saturday night show which will be televised. The girls are judged on beauty, personality and poise. In addition they compete in evening gowns, bathing suits, and talent presentation. Tickets for the individual performances will be available at the box office of West Aurora High School on the nights of July 17th, 18th, 19th, and 20th. For further information contact Greg LaPlante at 395-0278 or Bob Lindquist at 395-2087.

Joan is quite a versatile girl. Besides fashion modeling, she is a student of drama and dance, as well as voice with Madame Sharanova of the Chicago Conservatory of Music. She recently appeared with James Darren and Reginald Gardner in the Mill Run Playhouse production of "Tom Jones". She is a gourmet cook, her specialty being fancy desserts.

Joan is being sponsored by the Lake Region Jaycees whose yearly Pageant, held at Antioch High School is a preliminary to the Miss Illinois and Miss America Pageants. Joan is a summer resident of Lake Marie.

Blaze Damages Home

The Leo Geist home on Park Avenue in Felter's subdivision was damaged by fire Sunday afternoon.

It was believed that the fire was started in the electrical system, as power was out at 3:10 p.m. Sunday afternoon.

An electrician arrived and smelled something burning in the attic, and the blaze was discovered.

No figure on the loss was given, but everything stored in the attic was destroyed and there was extensive smoke and water damage to the first floor living area.

The fire was not discovered until 5:15 when the Antioch Fire Department was called and they arrived at 5:30 p.m. and extinguished the blaze.

PM & L Play Receives Applause

PM & L's "Never Too Late" is giving Antioch an opportunity for a good laugh and a most entertaining evening, again on Friday and Saturday, June 28-29, at 8:30 p.m.

Last week's performances were well attended and everyone seemed to thoroughly enjoy this comedy about a middle aged wife who suddenly announces to her husband that they are going to have a baby.

The casting was superb and the entire cast gave a believable and hilarious performance.

The younger adults could well sympathize with the problems of the young son-in-law and daughter ably played by Gary Richter and Penny Rayunas, who lived home with her parents.

Al Ramsay and Betty Beveroth gave a marvelous portrayal of the expectant parents, and Garnet Oddsen is just right for the part of Grace Kimbrough, the "helpful" friend.

"Delicious punch was served by pretty girls in the lobby on opening night and an art exhibit by Jackie Horton in the theatre lobby was another treat of the evening.

"Stork Night" is June 28 when ladies awaiting Mr. Stork will be especially welcome.

On June 29, "Never Too Late" will put you in a festive mood to walk over and enjoy the Antioch Fire Dept. Dance after the show. For ticket reservations call 395-0339.

Be Proud of County --Darrow

Services your county government furnishes you are many, and much closer to you than you realize. John Darrow, Lake County Auditor, told members of the Antioch Lions Club Monday night.

Darrow spoke at a dinner meeting of the Lions Club held at Brass Ball, Salem, Wis.

"I am sure that most of us connect county government with the activities at the courthouse building," Darrow said. "But the county building is only the hub of the activities of your county government operation." Darrow told club members that there are many operations that the citizens of the county should be proud of, because they are among the finest in the state.

He cited the highway department which has built some 250 miles of road; the radio station used by the law enforcement agencies and fire departments of the county; the 160 bed county home; Lake County Hospital, a 65-bed facility; the Youth Home and the T. B. Sanatorium.

"Darrow said that Lake County has about 730 employees and a yearly payroll of some $4.2 million.

A Republican candidate for reelection in November, Darrow told the group that the total cost of operations in the county is approximately $10 million per year and less than $5 million of this is derived from general taxes.

Milton, Stern Elected

Robert — Milton, Lake Forest, was re-elected Monday night to a two-year term as Lake County GOP chairman, but Robert Haubrich lost out and the Democratic post went to Herbert L. (Hub) Stern, of Highland Park.

Milton won another two year term with no opposition and retained control of the party.

Haubrich, who was seeking his second two-year term was beaten down by the power play of two state representatives, John Matijevich of North Chicago and Daniel Pierce of Highland Park.

They nominated and seconded Stern for the post and carried the vote 3,682 to 1,980.

Stern, an unsuccessful candidate against U. S. Rep. Robert McClary, R-Lake Bluff, two years ago, is a delegate to the Democratic national convention.

The handwriting on the wall for Haubrich's ouster was begun by Antioch Township Committeewoman Rose Plechaty who charged that in Haubrich's term the money went out faster than it came in.

She was particularly irked at Haubrich for authorizing the expenditure of funds for cards for (Continued on page three)

Examiner For NLRB Cites Firm

A trial examiner for the National Labor Relations Board has recommended in Washington, D. C., that the board order George W. Kennedy Construction Co. of Antioch to stop discouraging employee membership in International Union of Operators Local 150 or any other union.

The charge was filed on Jan. 22 in which it was alleged that the firm violated the NLRB Act by discharging one of its employees because he sought enforcement of union work rules.

The examiner recommended that the employee be taken back to work without any loss of pay and the company stop interfering with, restraining or coercing its employees in the exercise of the rights guaranteed them under the act.

Squad. "My successor has been asked about the project," Wolf said, "and never once has he come forward on his own to offer his services on Project Vietnam."

"I hope that one of Antioch's many civic organizations will step forward and request the names of the servicemen in Vietnam and start a project of their own."

Wolf pointed out that in the 27 months he has been acting postmaster the revenue derived has risen from $177,000 to $300,000 per year.

As your postmaster I have had heartaches as well as pleasant moments," Wolf said.

"One of the pleasant moments was Project Vietnam which brought state and national recognition to the community of Antioch and has been written up in the Congressional Record."

"The idea originally came from Harry Brehen, one of my postal employees. But there is more to an idea than just the thought of it.

"There are things that go on behind the scene which make an idea a success. Since this project started 17 months ago we have mailed out over 3,000 packages to servicemen in Vietnam."

Wolf also took the written examination for the postmaster job but failed to pass it. He had the backing of State Rep. John Matijevich, D-North Chicago, and former Lake County Democratic Chairman Robert Haubrich, but apparently failed to keep the post despite their intervention.

In bowing out Wolf said: "I want to take this opportunity to thank the people of Antioch, the businessmen and the patrons of the Antioch Post Office for the fine cooperation I have received and for making Project Vietnam a success."

"And to the servicemen in Vietnam I say God bless you and may you all return home safe and sound in the very near future."

Antioch Sailor Back After Vietnam Tour

Jim O'Neil, 21, of 47 Second St., Antioch, who left for the service two weeks after moving to Antioch, is back from a year's service in Vietnam.

O'Neil, son of Mr. and Mrs. James P. O'Neil, was with a naval air facility at Cam Ranh Bay where he served as a jet mechanic.

Jim said he felt it was "wonderful" to be back home and he is glad that his tour of Vietnam is over.

"I have a 30 day leave and intend to visit with my folks and all the friends I can in that short time," he said.

Jim also was the recipient of several packages under the Project Vietnam program.

"I want to thank all of those wonderful people that made it possible for us to get the packages," he said. "They were just great."

Jim will report to the Pax River, Maryland, base for flight crew duty following his leave. He has two more years to go before coming home for good.

Jim O'Neil

chanic with the U.S. Navy. Jim joined the service in September 1966 and was sent to Vietnam on June 22, 1967. He returned to Antioch Monday.

The youth said the only action directly involving his unit occurred when the Viet Cong shelled the area but Jim, fortunately was in the Philippines continuing his school work.

"The people in Vietnam are very poor," Jim said, "and their living conditions are terrible. We would share our rations with them so that they would at least get something to eat."

Water Skiing

It might not be such a bad idea for the County of Lake to adopt an ordinance regulating water skiing.

Numerous complaints have been received from those using the Chain 'O Lakes about the complete disregard for safety that a growing number of water skiing enthusiasts display.

Boat owners have been forced to flee for shore because of the sudden appearance of a water skier across the bow.

The Town Board of Salem, Wisconsin, has taken a forward step in its treatment of water skiers.

The board has made it unlawful for any water skiing except during the hours of 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. "in the best interests and welfare for the town of Salem."

Any person found in violation of the ordinance shall, upon conviction, be fined not less than $5 and not more than $200 together with costs, and if he does not pay the fine, then he shall be confined in the county jail for a period not to exceed 10 days.

Now we are sure that a goodly number of water skiers will complain about the Salem ordinance.

We would suggest that the County of Lake go a step farther and not only prohibit the sport between certain hours but also regulate the areas where such skiing can be done.

We are sure that the loud moans from the water skiers will be drowned out by the boaters, the fishermen and the swimmers.

Gun Control

There has been a lot said about guns, gun control and deaths by firearms, and we would like to toss in our ten cents worth.

We think a law that demands a picture of the gun owners and his affidavit that he owns a gun or is thinking of owning a gun is a bit silly.

While we agree that some gun control is advisable, we would confine our regulations to those weapons sold to minors and shipped throughout the states by mail order catalogue selection.

It would seem to us that anyone who is going to commit murder is not going to be so foolish as to register anyway.

And if the burglar breaks into a place and steals the weapon and then uses it on someone, how is a card with your picture on it going to control it.

We realize that murders of prominent U.S. citizens always brings forth the hue and cry from the general public about how terrible it is and how gun control is needed.

We submit that the father who takes his son hunting and teaches him the use of a weapon with safety first in mind is doing more for gun control than any card with a picture on it.

One of these days we may find our home invaded by the holders of the lists, claiming the weapons and if not the weapons, the registrant.

Courthouse Notebook

By Lou Durkin

Lake County Democrats provided considerably more excitement in their convention to select a new County Central Committee Chairman Monday night than did the Republicans.

Democratic committeemen were aware of a pending contest for the chairmanship, but most of them thought the fight would be between incumbent Robert Haubrich, of Waukegan, and State Rep. John Matijevich, of North Chicago.

Instead of Rep. Matijevich, however, Herbert (Hub) Stern, of Highland Park, who campaigned unsuccessfully to unseat Cong. Robert McClory two years ago, entered the fray and scored a solid win over Haubrich.

The Demos were not content with just a fight for Chairman, however, and continued their scrapping through the balloting for Vice-Chairman, Secretary, and Treasurer.

Robert J. Milton had a breeze in comparison as he entered the arena unopposed and carried his slate of Secretary and Treasurer along with him.

The GOP convention was a rerun of two years ago when Milton, having lost the nomination for County Treasurer to Raymond Sheahan despite endorsement of the Central Committee, was expected to have tough opposition.

By the time the hour of the meeting rolled around, however, E. Kenny Harlan had withdrawn as a contender and Milton was an unopposed winner.

Milton backed John Henry Altfer in the recent GOP governor's race and it was thought he would be in trouble for re-election to his seventh term when Richard Ogilvie copped the nomination.

The portly Lake Bluff committeemen dazzled the opposition with footwork, however, and wound up being appointed to Ogilvie's staff for the fall campaign thus virtually assuring his re-election to the party post.

County Coroner Orville (Pat) Clavey, who seconded the nomination of Milton stole the chairman's thunder in his speech by making a strong plea for party unity, a plea which made up in enthusiasm what it lacked in originality.

Some Republican precinct committeemen expressed concern over the election of Stern by the Democrats, reasoning that the Highland Parker, who is an industrialist, businessman, and attorney, might have the contacts with campaign fund sources to cause trouble in the fall.

Stern indicated in his campaign against Cong. McClory that he is not against spreading the loot around in an election effort.

Milton drew a round of applause from Precinct Committeemen when he suggested that area legislators be contacted to sponsor a bill providing for an earlier primary election.

Weddings, graduations, and summer outdoor activity makes it difficult to lure crowds to political outings under the present calendar.

Letters to the Editor

June 13, 1968

Dear Editor:

It is a major disservice to the people of the United States—best as they are with growing violence in our midst—that the President's new firearms bill was deadlocked in the House Judiciary Committee by a 16-16 vote. The responsibility for this failure was due in part to the negative vote of Congressman Robert McClory of the 12th District.

As a former Director of the Federal Bureau of Prisons, I can personally testify to the blood and tears that have accompanied the indiscriminate proliferation of firearms in our nation.

We hope you will publish this information and urge the Congressman's constituents to visit him in person at home or in Washington, telegraph him with 96-cent Western Union public opinion wires, write him, telephone him—and urge him to reconsider his position and vote "yes" when the measure comes before him again in the Judiciary Committee and also on the floor of the House.

To the Antioch News:

Just a few words of hello to the home town and folks we use to know, from the sunny coast of California. It is almost a year since we have arrived and it takes some getting use to a larger town such as San Diego, which is very much a Navy Town, compared to quiet and peaceful Antioch. But we do have to admit the year-around climate and beauty is nice to accept. We do miss Antioch, our Family and Friends. Still this climate has done wonders for Morris, his health has much improved, this has really made our move out here well worth while.

The enclosed clipping we feel may be of interest to the former school chums of our son, Don, who graduated from Antioch Community High School in 1962, served four years in the Air Force, and is now employed by Pacific Northwest Bell in the Electronic Division.

the County Treasurer's office, is apparently starting his campaign for the Republican nomination for County Treasurer well in advance of the 1970 primary.

Tennyson, a long-time committeeman, was elected chairman of the Waukegan Township organization over the weekend and occupied the limelight briefly at the county convention Monday when he was elected temporary chairman.

And they are talking already about possible candidates for sheriff two years from now.

Clavey, of course, has been mentioned frequently, although he may consider the move as too insignificant, and Chief Deputy James (Jake) Repp has also been named as a possible candidate. Aside from the salary one wonders what the attraction could be for that office today with the Merit Commission virtually eliminating the office as a political power base.

Your Congressman Reports....

Another example of the futility of foreign aid is the so-called Alliance for Progress. This experiment, inaugurated seven years ago by the late President Kennedy, was aimed at raising living standards in Latin America. Now after seven years and contributions of more than $8 billion by the American taxpayer, the Alliance for progress appears to have been a failure.

Perhaps the most frustrating element encountered by the administrators of this foreign aid effort is the rapid population growth in the Latin American countries. More than 11 million persons are added to the total present population of 260 million. This is more than a three per cent per year growth and compares with a U. S. population growth rate of only 1.1 percent.

The most serious threat to this entire aid program is the collapse of efforts to improve agricultural practices. While population figures have been soaring, agricultural production has been almost stagnant. This means simply that Latin Americans have been eating

Ricky and Hank Apostol

P.M.&L's Apostals Are Amazing!

By Shirley Jensen

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Apostol can lay claim to a variety of talents, the foremost being the proud parents of seven active children. This happy Antioch family became acquainted with Palette, Masque and Lyre in February 1967 when Papa Apostol took his oldest daughter to tryouts for "The Remarkable Mr. Pennybacker" and unexpectedly ended up playing the part of the sheriff. From then-on, this amiable twosome made themselves indispensable to PM&L.

Hank and Ricky Apostol enjoy togetherness, so Mrs. Apostol busied herself with doing an outstanding job on costumes and scenery for "Heidi", while her husband was rehearsing his role. For Herr Sessaman, and daughter Joanne took care of the animals in the Dec. children's production of "Heidi".

Miss Apostol was also in the chorus of "Oliver" and in the Antioch Diamond Jubilee Pageant, sponsored by PM&L last summer.

Once again, in February of '68, this tremendous team pooled their artistic abilities, energy and imaginations and came up with a great set for "A Far Country", at an all-time low cost to PM&L. Even the smaller Apostals had to get into the act and help Mom and Dad carry things and clean up during the set construction.

PM&L's spring play "Room Service" found Hank Apostol on stage as the confused baker, Simon Jenkins, while his wife and daughter, No. 1 were back stage in charge of properties. Hank also designed the cover for the "Room Service" program.

In the current riotous comedy "Never Too Late", final performances being June 28 and 29 at the PM&L Theatre, Mr. Apostol felt right at home in his overalls as the carpenter, Mr. Foley, since he has been busy, also, as head of the set construction. He'll have hammer in hand again assisting with set construction for the forthcoming musical "Kiss Me Kate".

Joanne Apostol designed the inside title page for the "Never Too Late" program, and is in charge of the usherettes.

Mom Ricky is eligible for free admission "Stork Night", June 28, but this hasn't stopped her from doing a tremendous job as production manager for "Never Too Late". Apostol No. 8 is well on the way.

It's no wonder that Palette, Masque and Lyre is grateful for the Apostals' creed "To give service to PM&L above and beyond the call of duty".

for $378.00. Beatrice Foods was awarded the ice cream contract and the milk bid of Willowdale Dairy of Antioch was accepted at .0165 for one-third quart cartons.

Custodial paper supplies such as hand towels, paper towels and supplies was awarded to Kenosha Wholesale Grocery Co. for $607.64. The board agreed to the purchase of roof repair material from Tremco Co. of Cleveland for $1151.90. Each year repairs are made on the roof on a rotation basis by the custodians.

The board granted Morris Tharp a release from his 1968-69 contract contingent upon finding a replacement. Tharp was social studies teacher and coached track and football.

Three secretaries are leaving Antioch High School and the board hired the following three replacements: Mrs. Marilyn Kolar of Fox Lake; Mrs. Fran Evans of Round Lake and Mrs. Donna Wickman of Antioch.

Mrs. Betty Wurster has been re-appointed by the board as school treasurer for another two year term beginning July 1, 1968. Low bid on the bond for Mrs. Wurster was that of the West Insurance Agency at $286 for $250,000 coverage for a two year term.

Milton's slate of Hugh S. (Sam) Robinson, Deerfield, secretary, and Raymond E. Lindroth, Libertyville, treasurer, were also returned to office.

Stern drew Harry Hartel, Jr., a lawyer from Fremont, for treasurer, Jacqueline Delahanty, Libertyville, secretary, and C. (Casey) Kuklinsky, Warren, as vice chairman.

Governor Launches Port Plan

Gov. Samuel H. Shapiro has announced a program to launch the state's drive for more usage of its port facilities.

"Illinois leads all other states in the exporting of its products," Gov. Shapiro said, and explained that the new program "is designed to solidify Illinois' position as the export center."

The selling program will be directed by the Department of Business and Economic Development. It will focus on Illinois as the transportation, shipping, marketing and population center of the world.

Teachers Needed At Central High

Central High School of Salem had their monthly board meeting on June 11. At this meeting, the board accepted the resignation of Vernon O. Horne as principal and Vaughn Sorenson was hired to fill this position 1968-69.

Teacher vacancies remain open in English, Mathematics, Business Education, Guidance, Boys Physical Education and Industrial Arts.

The board granted Mrs. Marion Tierman a year's leave of absence and accepted Richard Olson's resignation as Boys' Physical Education instructor and head football and track coach.

Routine action was taken on bills.

less—and future prospects are not bright.

Another discouraging development during the seven years of the Alliance for Progress is the drop in foreign trade. During 1967 alone, exports from Latin American countries declined by more than $300 million and since 1962 their share of world exports has dropped from 6½ percent to less than 5½ percent. More than 50 million out of the total population of 260 million are reported to be unemployed—or under-employed. That would indicate that close to 30 percent of those available for work have an inadequate job—or no job at all.

The apparent failure of the Alliance for Progress does not mean that the developing countries of Latin America are about to disappear as viable nations. The last seven years have witnessed the construction of many new schools, factories, power plants, and other public and private improvements. But despite these evidences of apparent progress most Latin American countries have failed to make any striking advances in per capita income, literacy and land reform.

What the Alliance for Progress record in Latin America shows emphatically is that again American foreign aid may have stifled initiative—perpetuating economic and political inequality—and promoted dependency.

At any rate, the Alliance for Progress record is not good and the 7-year-old dream of the late President Kennedy remains unrealized—as are far too many dreams.

Turn Signals Are A Must

Every motor vehicle, except motorcycles and motor-driven cycles, must be equipped with an electric turn signal in the form of flashing lights at the front and rear of the vehicle, which shall indicate the intention of the driver to turn to the right or to the left. Front turn signals must emit a white or amber light and rear turn signals must emit a red light.

No person may turn a vehicle at an intersection unless the vehicle is in the proper lane or position upon the roadway as required by law; and no person may turn a vehicle to enter a private road or driveway, or otherwise turn a vehicle from a direct course or move right or left upon a roadway unless and until such movement can be made with reasonable safety.

No person may turn a vehicle without giving an appropriate signal as required by law. A signal of intention to turn right or left must now be given continuously for at least 100 feet before turning within a business or residence district, and such signal must be given continuously for at least the last 200 feet before turning outside a business or residence district.

Turn signals must be used to indicate an intention to turn, change lanes or start from parallel parked position; but must not be flashed on one side only on a parked or disabled vehicle, or flashed as a courtesy or "do pass" signal to operators of other vehicles approaching from the rear.

VISITING

David and Billie Garner of Manteca, California, on vacation, have been visiting their former friends and neighbors, Hubert and Zelma Bechtel of Witchwood Lane, since last Saturday. The Garners, formerly of Greenbriar Lane, moved to California a year ago last November. On their trip here they visited Billie's folks in Phillipsburg, Kansas, and plan on stopping in Newburn, North Carolina to see Dave's mother on the way home. The Bechtels visited with the Garners when they went to California last year on their vacation. The Garners timed their vacation so they would be here Thursday evening to attend special ceremonies being held at Millburn Masonic Lodge. Dave was a Worthy Patron four years ago and Billie a Worthy Matron of the Order of the Eastern Star two years ago. The Bechtels are also members of the Masonic Lodge. Zelma is also a past worthy matron of the O.E.S. The Garners hope to see all their friends while they are here, and to those they miss, they send their best regards.

BREAKFAST

If you had difficulty driving around Witchwood Lane last Sunday morning, it was because the Bechtels were serving a Bacon and Egg breakfast for the benefit of the Eastern Star Home for the Elderly in Rockford. From 10 a.m. until 1:00 p.m. the Lake County group of 1967 Matrons and Patrons served 144 breakfasts to folks who came from Chicago, Zion, Millburn and all over Lake County. With no other publicity than word of mouth advertising they held a very successful breakfast. The five men did the cooking while the five women served.

A record of "work hours" will be kept in order to share the responsibility. Parents will also be called upon to take their turns in supervising.

GUEST PASTOR

The Rev. Lawrence Holst, the Director of Pastoral Care at Lutheran General Hospital, Park Ridge, was the guest pastor at St. Mark's last Sunday, while Pastor Nelson and his wife took the first of their summer vacations.

Social Notes

By Del Jahnke

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Jacobson, Beach Grove, "thought" they were attending a family smorgasbord dinner at the VFW Hall in Waukegan on Saturday, June 22, but were pleasantly surprised to discover that their two daughters, Mrs. James Ruhl of Zion and Mrs. Don Rodgers, Oakwood Knolls, had arranged a "Surprise" 25th wedding anniversary party for them.

Nearly 100 relatives and friends greeted them, including Mrs. Ella Culp and Mr. and Mrs. Karl Sievert of Dearborn, Mich. (Mrs. Jacobson's mother, sister and her husband). There was one guest present who was really a long distance from home—Mr. Jacobson's aunt, Mrs. Aggie Paulsen from Stavanger, Norway, who is spending several weeks at the Jacobson home. A buffet table, laden with delectable food, and dancing to a three-piece band; plus all the anniversary trimmings, provided a lovely evening for all concerned.

The Bernard Stadick family has just returned from a 10-day vacation spent at private camping grounds in their travel trailer, near Friendship, Wis. Swimming, bicycling, a day at the Wisconsin Dells combined to make their time a "real" vacation.

Both Miss Kennedy and Mr. Howlett are students at Palos Verde Penn College. The couple were accompanying Mr. Howlett's parents who were attending a meeting in Chicago. The four had just come back from a combination business and pleasure trip to New Orleans, La.

$15,000 For Best Smile

Some girl in the United States is walking around with a $15,000 smile. It is quite possible she is in the Chicago area.

All girls with smashing smiles should take note that in this year's national Model of the Year search by Stewart Models of New York, there will be a special $15,000 TV modeling contract awarded the Miss whose dazzling smile qualifies her as the Ultra Brite Girl.

According to Colgate-Palmolive Company, whose Ultra Brite toothpaste is an endorser and sponsor of the Model of the Year Pageant, contestants will be selected from photographs and personal interviews by Stewart Models. Then a selected number will be flown to New York for test shots and final judging.

Entry blanks for the Model of the year Pageant are available now at Carson, Pirie, Scott & Co. A regional winner from the Chicago area will be selected July 15.

Expansion For County Home Sought

The Lake County Board of Supervisors Monday approved hiring an architect to work up detailed plans for a 100-bed addition to the Lake County Home at Libertyville, and at the same time Board Chairman Depke suggested an investigation of the Lake County Health Department.

The proposed 100-bed addition to the present facility would be a 40 per cent increase in bed capacity.

The cost, estimated at $8,500 to $9,000 a bed could total $900,000. Clarence Adams, superintendent at the county home said he could fill 150 more beds if he had them.

DuPage and Peoria counties have made such expansions to their county homes. The present Lake County facility can accommodate 153 persons.

The suggestion by Depke that the health department be looked into was made when discussion had brought out the idea of having a single head of all county health institution functions.

"Possibly there should be a referendum dissolving the health department," Depke said. "I don't think the county health department has done the job it was brought in to do."

The approved resolution for hiring the architect said the cost would be up to the standard fee of 6 per cent of the total construction cost.

Adams said that by 1970 some 40 per cent of the existing beds in institutions such as the county home would be out of commission because they do not conform to the state's minimum standard.

The committee will report back its action to the full county board for approval before an architect is hired, however.

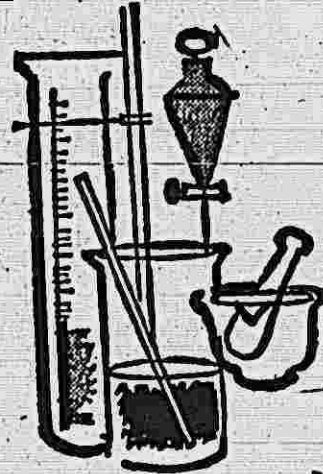

No action was taken on Depke's investigation suggestion.

Salvation Army Camp To Host 2000 Summer Guests

All the thrills of a fun-filled vacation at summer camp await the nearly 2,000 men, women, and children who will be the guests of the season at The Salvation Army's Camp Wonderland, six miles northwest of Antioch, on County Highway 5A.

Following the family camp sessions, 150 men and women 60 years of age and older will be guests at the senior citizens camp July 29 - Aug. 5. This summer will be the seventeenth season that The Salvation Army has held a camping period for the older.

In a special wooded area of Camp Wonderland known as Camp Shagbark, approximately 200 young musicians, boys and girls, will attend the Army's Northern Illinois Division music camp June 27-July 5. They will be followed by 250 girl scouts July 8-15, and 200 boy scouts July 15-22. A weekend camp for cub scouts will be held July 19-22.

A group of 200 boys and girls who participate in the activities at the Army's "Old Hat Coffee House" (706 W. North ave.) will have a special "Old Hat" session July 27-Aug. 1 at Camp Shagbark. Other groups vacationing at Shagbark will include 100 men at the Men's Fellowship weekend June 21-23, and 300 sunbeams June 24-26.

Camping fun for the needy is a 64-summer tradition with The Salvation Army in the Chicago area. Thousands of youngsters and their mothers have been guests since the Army held its first "fresh air camp" on a farm near Glen Ellyn in 1904.

The present 70-acre rolling woodland location, acquired in 1924, is at the edge of Camp Lake. Wye. Eighty-seven buildings—cottages, recreation buildings, dining halls and other facilities—are scattered over the camp area. Beneath tall trees, formal flower gardens provide a colorful contrast to the large expanses of lawn.

One of the prime attractions at Camp Wonderland is Center Lake with its opportunities for swimming, boating and fishing. The recreation program also includes group games, campcraft, hikes, picnics, woodcraft, classes in swimming, handicrafts and nature study, stunt and amateur programs, campfire and council ring sessions, songfests, outdoor band concerts, movies, trips to neighboring farms and overnight outdoor camping for the older children.

A staff of four in the nursery cottage helps care for the babies and toddlers to give their mothers a real vacation and allow them to take an active part in the recreation program. A large fenced yard with sand box, swings and other play equipment for the toddlers surround the cottage. The nursery has rooms for play, naps and dining as well as bathing and dressing facilities. The nursery is supervised by a registered nurse who also serves as the camp nurse.

Guests at Camp Wonderland are selected by the Army's Family Service Division on the basis of need for a vacation, without distinction as to color or religion. Referrals are accepted from other Salvation Army departments and corps, and from Chicago's other social agencies. Before going to camp each guest has a physical examination.

Major and Mrs. Alvin Nelson, 5321 N. Luna ave., are the supervisors of Camp Wonderland this summer. Mr. and Mrs. J. Wesley Anderson, 1116 Wesley ave., Oak Park, are camp directors.

Other activities on the camp schedule during the summer include the Territorial Bible and Leadership Institute Aug. 5-15, and the Central Music Institute Aug. 15-25.

Color Film June 30 At Local Church

The Gospel Blimp, a color film based on Joseph Bayly's book, is coming to the Antioch E.V. Free Church, Tiffany Road, Highway Dr., at 7:00 p.m. on June 30.

The film tells the story of a group of enthusiastic but misguided Church people who set out to take the Gospel to the people of their town through the use of a blimp.

There's many a laugh when they try to get responsible pilots; when their "fire-bombs" keep falling in all the wrong places; when their public-address system goes hay-wire. Later, when well-meaning evangelism begins to change to "what's-good-for-public - relations," and Christian principles start to fall by the way, there is a lesson to be learned.

"The Gospel Blimp" is not just an entertaining comedy, though it could stand on its own in that category. Through it all, there is a familiarity about the people and the feeling they have that makes one stop and wonder whether this couldn't really happen.

Committee Kills Merit System Bill

Springfield, Ill., June 18—The Executive Committee of the Illinois House of Representatives killed House Bill 2579, which called for establishment of a Merit system in the Secretary of State's Office. The bill was defeated by a 14 to 11 vote with all Republican members of the Committee present voting to kill the measure.

The bill introduced at the request of Secretary of State Paul Powell would have provided for creation of a Merit System for employment within the Secretary of State's Office. The bill provided for coverage to be extended to automobile investigators, driver's license examiners and hearing officers, technical personnel in Electronic Data Processing and other areas of the Secretary of State's office where special skills are involved.

Mr. Powell said the bill is in keeping with his philosophy that there is a need in government for both the merit and patronage systems.

Secretary Powell recalled that during his service in the House of Representatives that he co-sponsored the Personnel Code covering employees under the Governor and he co-sponsored the legislation creating and amending the Merit system for the State Police.

Test New Way To Pay Auto Accident Claims

Chicago—A new method of paying auto accident claims will be tested in several northern Illinois counties starting July 1, it was revealed at the Illinois State Bar Association's annual meeting at Chicago's Pick-Congress Hotel.

Ten of the nation's largest auto insurance companies conducted a pilot test of the new claims-handling system in Kane and DuPage counties last March with "very encouraging" results, said John S. Hamilton, Jr., vice president and general counsel of the American Mutual Insurance Alliance, Chicago.

Hamilton said all 10 participating companies will continue using the new system, called Guaranteed Benefits, in the original two-county test area. Most of the 10 also will expand the test into part or all of several adjacent counties, including Lake, McHenry, Kendall and suburban portions of Cook County.

"The favorable results of the pilot experiment have encouraged a larger group of companies to embark on a similar field of Guaranteed Benefits in the Rochester-Syracuse area of New York on July 15," said Hamilton.

These experiments probably will run for several months, he said, to collect detailed information on 2,000 to 3,000 bodily injury claims in each state. Modern research techniques and computer facilities are being used to measure the public acceptance and cost of settlements under the new claims procedure.

The Illinois test of Guaranteed Benefits is being conducted at the invitation of State Insurance Director John F. Bolton, Jr.

The participating companies will offer persons with valid bodily injury claims against their policyholders a new settlement option providing up to $12,500 per person in payments for such items as medical expenses, wage losses, physical impairments and the inconvenience associated with the injury. There's also a survivor's benefit.

All persons with valid bodily injury claims will be paid up to $5,000 in medical benefits without having to make any kind of commitment, said Hamilton. These claimants also can choose to accept up to $7,500 in optional or elective benefits for lost wages and other damages. But to get these optional benefits they have to agree orally that their claim is settled and they won't sue.

Hamilton said these "no red tape" offers are a deliberate attempt to speed up claim settlements and to eliminate some of the expense and irritations involved in bargaining for a liability settlement. However, he stressed that claimants who prefer to pursue a liability claim may reject the $7,500 package of optional benefits and take their chances with a conventional claim or lawsuit. In that event, the insurance company would pay the medical benefits anyway and credit the payments against the ultimate settlement.

Property damage claims will continue to be handled under present claims procedures in all cases, Hamilton said.

He said the Guaranteed Benefits system is not a new coverage, but an experimental method of handling claims under existing auto liability insurance policies.

However, Hamilton said if the experiments in Illinois and New York indicate that the Guaranteed Benefits program offers an improvement over present claims procedures, it is expected that eligibility requirements will be broadened so that nearly all persons injured in auto accidents would be offered the payments even if they were at fault in the accident.

He said paying on a no-fault basis would require changes in Illinois liability laws and in today's auto liability policies, however. One major purpose of the current tests is to find out what effect such a change would have on the over-all cost of auto insurance.

Companies taking part will collect statistics and information on all accidents involving their policyholders in the test areas, even though the Guaranteed Benefits offers cannot be made at this time except in cases where their policyholder was at fault, he said.

BEETLES BEING STUDIED

The Department of Agriculture is studying proposed revision of the quarantine of Japanese beetles. Supplemental rules and regulations to control or eradicate the beetle are being considered by the Division of Plant Industry.

OIL FIELDS EXTENDED

Two extensions to oil fields were discovered in Illinois during May, according to the State Geological Survey. Berryville field was extended three-quarters of a mile in Edwards County. In Madison County production in the Marine West field was extended three-quarters of a mile. Estimated crude oil production for May is 4,774 barrels.

KEEP YOUR COOL

Cut down on heat while cooking by employing simple tricks like this: bake meat loaf mixture in muffin pans as individual servings instead of the loaf pan. Using a 325 F. to 350 F. oven temperature, the meat "cups" will take 25 to 30 minutes rather than 60 to 90 minutes for a loaf.

Cooking time for meat loaf can also be cut down when the meat is packed into a nine-inch square pan rather than a loaf Using moderate temperature, the square pan of meat mixture takes 45 to 60 minutes.
